AXIOM CYBER SOLUTIONS WELCOMES NEIL HECKMAN

Neil Heckman joins Axiom Cyber Solutions as the Director of Sales & Business Development

November 28, 2017, Las Vegas, NV – Axiom Cyber Solutions announces and welcomes Neil Heckman as Director of Sales & Business Development.

With over 15 years of professional and technical sales experience, Neil has a strong cyber-security background and will be able to drive market awareness and partner development with his unique combination of technical savvy, customer dedication and succinct communication.

Prior to joining Axiom Cyber Solutions, Neil was an Executive Account Representative with Bitdefender. He is a graduate of Northeastern University's D'Amore-McKim School of Business with a Master's of Science in Finance.

Troy Wilkinson, CEO of Axiom Cyber Solutions stated, "Neil brings a wealth of sales management experience and valuable industry knowledge to the team at Axiom. We are confident that his background will help us grow and bring true innovation to the cyber-security market for small and medium business."

Neil added, "I'm excited to join Axiom to aid small to medium businesses with our 'firewall as a service' security solution. As a proponent of small businesses, I'm happy that we can provide an Enterprise Level Cyber-Security Solution at an extremely cost effective, operational expense."

As Director of Sales & Business Development for Axiom Cyber Solutions, Heckman will guide the sales strategy, oversee channel partner initiatives & relationships, and ensure that Axiom's clients receive the best-in-class service that Axiom is committed to providing with its innovated cyber-security solutions.
